

PSY 322 MODULE 2 QUIZZES

The How-To Guide for PSY 322 Module 2 Quizzes revolved around providing tips for solving the quizzes efficiently. Here, I will give the most repetitive questions for these quizzes and their answers.

Sr #	Questions	Answers
1	The psychological state in which individuals possess protective factors that help them overcome the adverse effects of stressors	resilience
2	Authoritative	High in warmth High in control
3	Authoritarian	Low warmth High control
4	Permissive-Indulgent	High in warmth Low in control
5	Permissive- Neglectful	Low in warmth Low in control
6	Many ethnic minority adolescents experience a "double disadvantage" that includes prejudice, discrimination, and bias because of their ethnic minority status and?	The stressful effects of poverty
7	All of the following are examples of long-term damage that can occur from exposure to smoke during pregnancy, except	children are at greater risk of obesity
8	There are believed to be fundamental universal adult-child interactions that occur across cultures (although the way in which they occur varies). This includes all of the following except	Attachment styles
9	Which theory (or parts of the theories) of human development best reflects your	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Behaviorist: development depends on experiences with the environment beliefs about children? Explain WHY you identify with the theory you have	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Skinner: operant condition: learning behavior through consequences• increase desired behavior with reinforcer• ignore undesirable behavior through punishment

10	In prenatal development, MOST significant organs of the body are formed	during the period of the embryo